at 12:01 a.m. or was assessed in another county or state.

WHAT PROPERTY IS TAXABLE. All depreciable tangible personal property which has a Nebraska net book value greater than zero is taxable, except licensed motor vehicles, livestock, and certain rental equipment.

Irrigation equipment, such as pivots, pumps, and motors, is personal property and must be listed on the Nebraska Personal Property Return. These items are not included in the value of land.

WHAT PROPERTY MUST BE LISTED. You must list all taxable property that you own or that you lease from another person.

If you are unable to list leased property because you do not know the Nebraska adjusted basis, you must provide a description of the property and the name and address of the owner or lessor of the property.

If you lease property to another person, you do not need to list any property which is listed and valued on the lessee's return.

PENALTIES. Any taxable personal property value not reported by the May 1 filing deadline shall be subject to a penalty.

Any personal property value added after May 1 and on or before July 31 of the year the property was required to be reported shall be subject to a penalty of 10 % of the tax due on the value added.

Any personal property value added on or after August 1 of the year the property was required to be reported shall be subject to a penalty of 25 % of the tax due on the value added.

PROTESTS. Personal property protests must be filed on or before June 30.

You may also protest if the assessor notifies you of a change in the value of property, of the addition of omitted property, of the failure to file a return, or of the assessment of a penalty. You have 30 days from the date the notice is mailed to file a written appeal of the action with the county board of equalization.

COLLECTION OF THE TAX. Personal property taxes are due and payable on December 31 and become delinquent in halves on May 1 and September 1 following the due date (except in counties with a population over 100,000 which have delinquent dates of April 1 and August 1). On the due date, the taxes become a first lien on all personal property you own. If the taxes are not paid, any personal property you own, whether taxable or not, is subject to seizure in order to satisfy the lien.

ACCELERATION OF TAXES. When all or a substantial amount of your taxable personal property is sold, attached, or removed, or any attempt to do so is made, the tax will be accelerated and become immediately due and payable.

DEFINITIONS

DEPRECIABLE TANGIBLE PERSONAL PROPERTY is any tangible personal property which is used in a trade or business or for the production of income and which has a determinable life of more than one year.

Any capital or depreciable improvements or additions to an item of personal property shall be listed separately for property tax purposes.

YEAR is the number of years since the property was acquired. The factor shown for year one shall be the percent used for January 1 of the year following the year of acquisition of the property. The factor shown for year two shall be the percent used January 1 of the second year following the year of acquisition of the property, etc.

NUMBER OF ITEMS is the quantity of each specific item. Identical items may be grouped together on one line of the Nebraska Personal Property Schedule only when such items were acquired in the same calendar year and have the same recovery period.

NEBRASKA ADJUSTED BASIS is the adjusted basis for federal income tax purposes, increased by the amount of the depreciation, amortization, or deduction under section 179, taken on the personal property. Generally, the Nebraska adjusted basis will be the cost of the item, including sales tax, freight charges, and installation and testing charges. It will not include the refunded sales tax on agricultural machinery and equipment purchased on or after January 1, 1992 for use in commercial agriculture.

If property rehabilitation expenses result in an increased federal adjusted basis of the property, the Nebraska adjusted basis must be increased accordingly.

For property that is transferred by gift or inheritance, the Nebraska adjusted basis is the same as it was for the previous owner, whether or not there is a change in the adjusted basis for federal income tax purposes caused by the transfer.

For property that is transferred in the creation, dissolution, or reorganization of corporation, partnership, or trust, that is tax-free for income tax purposes, the Nebraska adjusted basis shall be the same as it was for the previous owner.

Example: A son inherits a business from his father. The tangible personal property of the business will have the same Nebraska adjusted basis as it had when the business was owned by the father. The property's year acquired will also be the same as it was for the father.

Example: A farmer incorporates his farming operation and transfers a tractor to the corporation. The tractor was purchased three years earlier for $40,000 and has a recovery period of seven years. For property tax purposes, the corporation will be taxed on a three-year-old tractor with a Nebraska adjusted basis of $40,000, a depreciation factor of 55.13% (from Table 1), and a net book value (taxable value) of $22,052.

RECOVERY PERIOD is the period over which the value of property will be depreciated for Nebraska property tax purposes. Table 2 includes recovery periods for some assets. If you have property not contained in Table 2, use the federal MACRS recovery period.

DEPRECIATION FACTOR is the percentage of the Nebraska adjusted basis that is taxable. Use Table 1 to find the appropriate depreciation factor for the recovery period and year.

Example: You purchased office furniture for $5,000 two years ago. You elected to take a section 179 deduction for the full amount of $5,000 in that income tax year. Even though for income tax purposes this property is "fully depreciated," it is still taxable for property tax purposes in the current year, since office furniture has a recovery period of seven years (from Table 2). The Nebraska adjusted basis of $5,000 is multiplied by the depreciation factor of 70.16% (from Table 1) to produce a current year net book taxable value of $3,508.

NET BOOK VALUE is the taxable value for property tax purposes. It is the Nebraska adjusted basis of the tangible personal property multiplied by the appropriate depreciation factor for the recovery period and year. The property tax is imposed on the net book value of tangible personal property.

Example: A computer has a Nebraska adjusted basis of $12,000. The computer was purchased three years ago. The computer has a recovery period of five years. The depreciation factor (see Table 1) is 41.65%. The net book value (taxable value) of the computer is $4,998.
